Keystone 99's are ZOOMING with the Allentown School District

On January 20th, the Keystone Chapter of the 99's did all day ZOOM Sessions for some of the 3rd and 4th graders in the Allentown School District.

The project was initiated by Nancy McCurry, and after much back and forth, cancellations and restarts,.... Nancy, Rosanne Stencil-Johnson, and Beth Signore, did the Zoom Classroom sessions with 3rd and 4th grades about "Weather and Aviation". 5 Zoom sessions, starting at 9:00 AM and ending at 2:40 PM, about Weather as it relates to Flying and Aviation. Nancy worked for 2 days with color coded paper cups, straws, and instructions on how to make an "Anemometer". She then delivered 100 "Anemometer Kits" to the Allentown Roosevelt School.

On presentation day Nancy introduced the "women pilots" from the 99's, while Rosanne (American Airlines Captain), and Beth did the presentations. Finally the students were asked to write or draw what they learned from today's sessions. A prize of free DiVinci Science Center tickets for the best writing and /or drawing, will be awarded.

Nancy's puppy Amelia sleeps next to the dining room table with the Anemometer Kits.

Staying active and staying healthy can sometimes be challenging, or even at odds with themselves in the middle of this coronavirus situation. So how does "Flying" and "staying current" fit into a pandemic? I'll tell you how other flying organizations are doing it..... Modern technology is amazing. The "LVFC - Lehigh Valley Flying Club" and the local "EAA - Experimental Aircraft Association" uses Aviation Webinars ~~ To continue to learn and review, Webinars have been filling the void. And doing a great job if you take the time to listen to them.
